No constitutional officer, Clerk of the Court, deputy clerk, or other person or persons employed by the clerk may record any deed of purchase for a new residence if a transportation impact fee or proffer has not been paid by the developer of such property for the traffic impacts that arise from such new residence. The amount of the impact fee or proffer is to be determined for each new residential unit constructed in the locality or region until it is determined that the transportation needs serving new residential development in the locality or region are being adequately met and are likely to remain so for at least the next five years. The fee shall be based on standards and criteria established by the locality, including but not limited to (i) average levels of traffic congestion and vehicle miles traveled by residents in such locality or region, (ii) the pro-rata impact of each additional residential unit on the transportation network, and (iii) the pro-rata impact of each additional residential unit on the costs of improving, expanding, or developing new transportation systems in order to adequately meet the needs of such new development. Explanation:

(This amendment provides $5.0 million in the first year from the general fund for sewage system construction financing in PDCs 1, 2 and 3 as recommended in the Southwest Virginia Regional Wastewater Study. This funding would support three PPEA projects in this region to demonstrate the low-cost, low-maintenance and high-efficiency of decentralized sewer systems and would eliminate numerous "straight pipe" discharges of raw sewage directly into environmentally sensitive streams.)

(This amendment provides an additional $2.3 million in general fund dollars each year for local government Comprehensive Services Act (CSA) administration. Local government administrative funding for CSA has not increased since 2000. Currently, the state provides $1.5 million general fund dollars annually for local government administration of CSA and budgetary language restricts local administrative funding to an amount equal to two percent of the fiscal year 1997 pool fund allocations, with a floor of $12,500 for administrative costs and a ceiling of $50,000 per locality. This level of administrative funding equates to less than one percent of the more recent pool fund expenditures which totaled $256 million in fiscal year 2004. In fiscal year 2005, 95 of 131 localities, or almost 73 percent received less than $10,375 in state funds to administer the CSA program. Local administration of CSA is fairly complex and demanding, and responsibilities have grown to require additional data collection, reporting, management and quality assurance activities over time. This request would provide 87 percent of localities with a floor of $40,000 for administrative costs and 6 percent would receive $75,000 for administrative costs.)

Explanation:

(This amendment provides additional funding to Virginia's 14 trauma centers to offset uncompensated care losses attributable to treating uninsured patients, inadequate reimbursement from public payors and the need to maintain operations in a state of readiness to treat trauma patients any time of day and night. The Virginia Department of Health currently distributes funding to the trauma centers through the Trauma Center Fund. The Trauma Center Fund was established for the purpose of defraying the costs of providing emergency medical care to victims of automobile accidents attributable to alcohol or drug use and is comprised of moneys paid into it by those who are convicted of two or more DUI-related offenses within 10 years ($50 fee) and those applying for reinstatement of suspended or revoked driver's licenses ($40 fee). Fees collected for this purpose are estimated to total $4.2 million in FY 2006, however, total collections through the first quarter of FY 2006 amount to about $614,000. Language requires the department to review the criteria used in distributing money in the fund and to make changes as necessary to encourage trauma centers to upgrade their trauma designation. Page 266, strike lines 7 through 14.

Explanation:

(This amendment provides funding for systems development and staff in the Department of Medical Assistance Services to implement a Medicaid Buy-in Program. The program would extend Medicaid coverage to persons with disabilities who go to work. For individuals with disabilities receiving Medicaid, the fear of losing health care and related services is one of the barriers keeping such individuals from maximizing their employment, earnings potential and independence. Often persons with significant disabilities cannot obtain private sector health insurance that provides coverage of the services and supports that enable them to live independently and enter, remain in or rejoin the workforce. Consequently, they rely on Medicaid for coverage of such necessary services such as personal assistance, prescription drugs, and durable medical equipment. The U.S. Congress concluded that eliminating barriers to health care and other needed supports and creating financial incentives to work can greatly improve short and long-term financial independence and financial well-being of individuals with disabilities. The Medicaid Buy-In option in the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 provides states with the opportunity to develop work incentive initiatives that encourage people with disabilities to work or increase their level of work.

Language is added to direct the Department of Medical Assistance Services to design the Medicaid Buy-in Program within the limits of the appropriations and to include cost sharing provisions. Funding would allow individuals already enrolled in Medicaid who are disabled to pursue work opportunities and keep their Medicaid coverage. Consequently, no additional funding is needed for their medical services since these costs are already included in the Medicaid budget. Funding in this amendment is for systems changes and staffing to design and implement the new program. Language contained in the introduced budget is stricken which would have required the department to re-submit a Medicaid Buy-in Program Research and Demonstration Waiver to the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid (CMS). CMS has already rejected this approach by Virginia, since 32 other states already implement a Medicaid Buy-in Program and previous research has demonstrated the value of this type of program. This is a recommendation of the Virginia Disabilities Commission.)

These programs provide an array of services to individuals age 55 and older and meet the criteria for admission to a nursing facility. Virginia currently does not have a full PACE program. The Day Support Waiver was designed to serve 300 individuals with an original appropriation of $2.9 million from the general fund and $2.9 million from matching federal Medicaid funds, effective July 1, 2005. During the design of the waiver, the department estimated that the addition of supported employment would have an additional cost impact, which could impact the number of individuals who could be served by the waiver. Currently, more than 200 individuals receive services through the Day Support waiver. Supported employment would be an appropriate addition to the continuum of services to better serve these individuals. The addition of these services is estimated to not require additional funding, as the program is not yet at projected capacity.)

Explanation:

(This amendment allows Eastern State Hospital to continue its current agreement to lease space at the facility to Williamsburg-James City County Public Schools for its Alternative School. The Alternative School occupies about 12,000 square feet of space in an area at that was not being used by the Hospital. The current agreement provides for the payment of the cost of utilities and refuse services. More recent state policy requires state agencies to make vacant space available to other state agencies as a first priority and, if leasing space, to obtain a fair market lease value for the space. The Alternative School will need to be relocated once Eastern State Hospital begins construction to rebuild the facility. This language would allow the school to continue its current lease until the school is able to find an alternative location and/or Eastern State Hospital begins rebuilding its existing facility.)

Explanation:

(This amendment provides funding to support and expand efforts to help eligible Virginia citizens to claim the federal Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) on their federal tax returns through the Virginia Earned Income Tax Coalition. A 2005 study by the Joint Legislative Audit and Review Commission (JLARC) found that many Virginians could be eligible for the federal Earned Income Tax Credit, which is a refundable tax credit designed to reward low-income families for working. Families who worked and earned less than $35,000 in the most recent tax year (2004) could receive between $2,600 and $4,300 based on their income, marital status and number of children. Families can receive the EITC even if they earn too little to owe any taxes. However, they must file a federal tax return to claim the credit. The JLARC report estimated that up to 66,000 families in Virginia who receive social service benefits could have claimed about $170 million had they taken advantage of the EITC. The report also recommended that the Commonwealth continue efforts to conduct outreach activities with families who may be eligible for the EITC and recruit volunteers who can provide tax preparation support to those filers seeking to claim the credit. Funding will be used to assist 18 volunteer coalitions and establish up to four new coalitions.)

Explanation:

(This amendment provides $100,000 the first year from the general fund to the William King Regional Art Center, which is located in Abingdon. While the State Capitol is being renovated, all its artwork has been removed. William King Regional Art Center has made arrangements to borrow this collection for display in the galleries from April 15, 2006 through late fall when it will be re-installed in the Capitol. This is a rare opportunity to share this, the state's art collection, with Southwest Virginians, many of whom will likely never travel to Richmond to see it. The collection includes many portraits, paintings and sculptures that have relevance to Southwest Virginia, such as Governors David Campbell, Wyndam Robertson and Henry Stuart, other historic persons like John Smith, Patrick Henry, Henry Clay and George Rogers Clark and many more.

The expenses associated with bringing this important collection to Southwest Virginia are significant, particularly those associated with its shipping, care and installation. In addition, the Center plans on extensive school programming, both through the regular ArtExpress program and through a new, special program designed to meet 4th grade SOL in Virginia Studies.)
