2014 Session

Budget Bill - HB30 (Introduced)

George Mason University

Item C-7

Acquire and Construct Mixed-Use Facilities (PPEA) (18117)

Subject to the provisions of this act, George Mason University is authorized to explore opportunities with private partners to construct a mixed use residential, retail, dining facility on approximately 60 acres on university-owned property located on the east side of the Fairfax Campus. The project could also include supporting site work and infrastructure (road work, heating and cooling). The university is also authorized to acquire and construct a project or projects under the provisions of the Public-Private Educational Facilities and Infrastructure Act (2002). During development discussion with private partners, the university may explore options with developers for construction of other auxiliary-supported facilities as part of a mixed use development.
